

15th Annual Arctic Health Sciences Seminar

AGENDA

Friday April 1st 12:00 - 3:30 pm
BP Energy Center
900 E. Benson Blvd, Anchorage, Alaska

11:00am-LUNCH and NETWORKING: - Lunch provided - $10 ($5 students) donation suggested to support the American Society of Circumpolar Health. All are welcome; ASCH membership forms will be available.

11:15 am-12:00pm Annual Meeting: American Society for Circumpolar Health (new members welcome!)

ARCTIC HEALTH SCIENCES SEMINAR 12PM – 3:15 PM

12:00pm-12:45pm

ROBERT FORTUINE MEMORIAL LECTURE

Dr. Frank von Hippel “Endocrine Disrupting Chemicals in the Arctic”
University of Alaska Anchorage

Presentation of Donation to the Robert Fortuine Memorial Fund on behalf of the American Society for Circumpolar Health.

1:00pm-2:00pm Presentation Session #1

- Safe in the Village (SITV): Developing a Sexual Health Video Program for Alaska Native Youth by Jaclyne Richards, Alaska Native Tribal Health Consortium, UAA Student
- An Analysis of Rainwater from Rural Alaska Catchments: Findings and Recommendations for Healthy Utilization by Elizabeth King, UAA MPH Student
- Housing characteristics and Indoor Air Quality in Households of Alaska Native Children with Chronic Lung Conditions by Dr. Rosalyn Singleton, Alaska Native Tribal Health Consortium

2:00pm – 2:15pm: stretch break; student prize judging

2:15pm – 3:15 pm Presentation Session #2

- Emerging infectious disease surveillance in the Aleutians amongst Harbor Seals - by Dr. Amanda Bishop, UAA
- Bartonella quintana investigations in Anchorage, Alaska by Dr. Ian Plumb, CDC Arctic Investigations Program
- Cancer among Alaska Native people: The Alaska Native Tumor Registry’s 45 year report by Dr. Sarah Nash, Alaska Native Tribal Health Consortium

3:15pm - 3:30 pm: Student Award Presentation and Closing Remarks